

It's time in 2020 to get recognition for Sustainable Achievement

2020 – “Clear Vision” / “Hindsight” - this year 2020 is shaping as a challenging year for sustainability and climate change in many regards. The Australia & New Zealand Institute of Sustainable Management (ANZISM), is proud to announce the launch of the “Sustainable Awards - 2020”

- Awards for an Individual
- Awards for a Project or Business Initiative
- Awards for Sustainable Research

These awards are a recognition of excellence and achievement in the use and implementation of Sustainability, as per United Nations – Pillars of Sustainability / Principles of Sustainability / Sustainable Development Goals / Earth Charter. NOTE: entry is open to all persons involved with sustainability and climate change initiatives.

ANZISM is a professional membership body representing organisations and individuals, in New Zealand and Australia, who understand and implement sustainability in their endeavours. Globally, Sustainability is being implemented in all types of projects and within business initiatives to produce real benefits.

Entries may be submitted in any category and for any size or location. Australian and New Zealand national winners and category winners will be individually announced on 27 November 2020.

Entry details and submission forms can be found at www.anzism.com

Entries close on 6 November 2020
